3	Consider the contributions and challenges of the Services Sector in India: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. The Services sector is the largest contributor to India's GDP and has been the primary driver of economic growth in recent decades.</li> <li>2. Despite its large share in GDP, the services sector's share in total employment is significantly lower than that of agriculture.</li> <li>3. The growth in services has often been termed "jobless growth" in the formal sector, leading to a rise in informal service sector's employment.</li> <li>4. Digitalization and the rise of the IT/ITeS sector have further solidified India's position as a global service hub, but the benefits are not uniformly distributed across the workforce.</li> </ol> Which of the above statements are correct? (A) 1, 2 and 3 only; (B) 1, 3 and 4 only; (C) 2, 3 and 4 only; (D) All of the above	D	Service Sector, termed as 'Old War Horse' in the Economic Survey 2024-25 tabled in the Parliament today by Union Minister of Finance and Corporate Affairs, Smt. Nirmala Sitharaman. 'The service sector has been fuelling growth both domestically and globally. In FY25 so far, services propped up GDP growth when manufacturing has been affected by dampening global merchandise trade. The critical role of services exports in strengthening India's external balance and the increasing 'servicification' of the industrial sector adds to its importance to the Indian Economy', highlights the Economic Survey 2024-25. India's services sector has been the steadiest contributor to the Gross Value Added (GVA) in the economy. Its contribution to the total GVA at current prices has increased from 50.6% in FY14 to about 55% in FY25. The growth in the service sector, as measured by YoY change in the real GVA by services, has been above 6% in each year in the last decade, except for the Covid-19 pandemic that affected FY21. The average services growth rate before the pre-pandemic year was 8%. The average services growth in the post-pandemic Year, i.e. FY23 to FY25 has risen to 8.3%. The service sector also provides employment to approximately 30% of the workforce. Services also contribute indirectly to the GDP through the 'servicification' of manufacturing, i.e., increasing utilization of services in manufacturing production and post-production value addition. Refer- https://www.pib.gov.in/PressReleaselframePage.aspx?PRID=2098048

The Eastern Ghats Granulite Belt in central and southern Odisha is a Proterozoic formation rich in various rocks, and the associated geological processes have led to the formation of valuable mineral deposits like bauxite, manganese, and gemstones. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Assertion (A): This is true. The Eastern Ghats Granulite Belt is indeed a geological feature from the Proterozoic era, and its composition includes khondalite, charnockite, migmatite, anorthosite, and alkaline rocks.</li> <li>• Reason (R): This is also true. The geological processes that formed the belt are responsible for the formation of important mineral resources found in the region, such as bauxite, manganese, graphite, and gemstones.</li> <li>• Explanation: The reason correctly explains the assertion because the mineralizations are a direct consequence of the specific geological processes and rock types (like the khondalite and charnockite) that define the Eastern Ghats Granulite Belt.</li> </ul>

6	The Ganjam Plates of Madhav Raja II of the Shailodbhava dynasty provide valuable information about which aspect of early Medieval Odisha's history? (A) The genealogy and territorial extent of the Shailodbhava rulers; (B) The maritime trade networks of the Shailodbhavas with Southeast Asia; (C) The construction of the Mukteshvara temple at Bhubaneswar (D) The diplomatic relations between the Shailodbhavas and the Gupta Empire	A The lost glory of the Sailodbhava dynasty was restored and firmly established by Madhavaraja II Sainyabhita II, the son and successor of Charamparaja. He ruled over Kongoda Mandala under different circumstances at least for fifty years as feudatory and independent ruler exhibiting his diplomatic genius. In his Ganjam grant dated 620 AD., he has been described as the Mahasamanta of Sasanka. In the Khurda Charter of Madhavaraja, he is described as the Lord of entire Kalinga. This shows that around 626 A.D., with the fall of Sasanka, Madhavaraja II asserted his Independence and grabbed entire Kalinga assuming the title Sakala-Kalingadhipati. The Gangas, who had been driven away from Kalinga by Sasanka, now gained momentum and with the help of the Western Chalukyas reasserted their sway over Kalinga. This fact has been asserted from the Chicacole plates of the Ganga ruler Indravarman III. At this juncture, Madhavaraja II thought it prudent to acknowledge the suzerainty of the Gangas which has been corroborated by the subsequent Charters. After the issue of Khurda Charter, he never, mentions himself as the 'Lord of Kalinga'.

15	What is the Surya Heliophysics Foundation Model? (A) A planetary rover; (B) An AI model to forecast solar activity; (C) An Earth observation satellite; (D) A spacecraft	B	NASA launched Surya, an advanced artificial intelligence model designed to transform space weather prediction. Developed alongside IBM and trained on nine years of Solar Dynamics Observatory data, Surya offers early and accurate forecasts of solar flares and eruptions . These solar events can disrupt satellites, power grids, aviation, and GPS systems on Earth. By making Surya open-source, NASA aims to encourage global collaboration to enhance protection against space weather hazards. Space Weather and Its Impact Space weather originates from solar eruptions such as solar flares and coronal mass ejections (CMEs). These release charged particles and magnetic energy that travel through the solar system. When they reach Earth, they can damage satellites, cause power outages, disrupt aviation routes, and endanger astronauts. Predicting these events is vital for safeguarding modern technology and infrastructure. Surya – NASA's AI Model for Solar Forecasting Surya uses machine learning to analyse vast solar data sets. Unlike traditional models, it detects subtle solar activity patterns and predicts eruptions up to two hours in advance. This improves forecast accuracy and lead time, offering better preparedness against space weather threats. Surya's open-source nature encourages researchers worldwide to develop new applications and improve forecasting.

26 The El Nino phenomenon is associated with: (A) Weakening of monsoon in India; (B) Strengthening of monsoon in India; (C) No effect on the monsoon in India; (D) Only winter rains in India	A	El Niño, the warming of the central and eastern Pacific Ocean, is generally associated with weakened monsoon winds and below-average rainfall in India.  The ministry has been conducting regular studies on monsoons and associated rainfall patterns in the country, including those during the El Niño period. In general, during the El Nino event, the Indian summer monsoon is weaker than normal, and the intensity of the event also decides the amount of impact on the monsoon.  Since 1950, there have been 16 El Niño years, out of which 7 years had impacted Indian monsoon rainfall when rainfall was below normal. However, there is a stronger inverse relationship between El Niño and rainfall during the later half of the monsoon season (particularly with September rainfall).  La Niña, a climate phenomenon characterized by notably cooler sea surface temperatures (SST) in the central and eastern Pacific Ocean (opposite to El Nino), can significantly impact the Indian monsoon. In general, during a La Niña event, normal to above-normal rainfall is received over India during the southwest monsoon season. Most parts of the country receive above-normal

			rainfall during the La Nina years, except extreme north India and some areas over Northeast India, where rainfall below normal is likely during the La Nina years. The grounds for removal specified in Article 124(4) are "proved misbehaviour or incapacity". c) A minimum of 100 MPs are required to initiate the impeachment motion in the Lok Sabha. This statement is correct. The Judges (Inquiry) Act, 1968, mandates that a removal motion in the Lok Sabha must be signed by at least 100 members. d) The President can pardon the Judge. This statement is incorrect. While the President has the power to grant pardons under Article 72, this power does not extend to an impeached judge. The removal of a judge is a parliamentary process that culminates in an order by the President, but it is not subject to the President's pardoning power. The President's pardoning power is specifically excluded in the case of impeachment in other jurisdictions, and in India, the President acts on the advice of the Council of Ministers in this regard, with the removal process being a separate constitutional procedure.

4 Consider the following statement about the impact of Indo-Greek Rule.

- The Indo-Greeks were the first rulers in India to issue punch marked coins in India.
- They introduced new features of Hellenistic art and literature such as Gandhara art in the north-west frontier of India, which was purely Greek.
- The Indo-Greeks also introduced the practice of military governorship where the governors were called satraps.

Which of the above statements is/are correct?

a) 1 and 2 only
 b) 2 and 3 only
 c) 3 only
 d) 1 and 3 only

However, it should be noted that Indo-Greek rule continued in north-western India for some more time. There is mention of Queen Agathobola (probably one of the queens of Menander I) and her son Strato, whose joint coins have been found. This north-west Gandhara region was also lost to Parthians and Sakas in due course of time. Later, in the late 1st century AD or the early 2nd century AD, the remaining part of their territory, that is, the area to the east of the Jhelum was also ceded to the Kshatrapas under Rajwala.

Impact of Indo-Greek Rule

- The Indo-Greeks were the first rulers in India to issue coins (gold, silver, copper and nickel) which can be definitely attributed to any dynasty and were also the first to issue gold coins in India (which increased in number under the Kushans). Interestingly, the coins of the Sakas, Parthians and the Kshatrapas followed the basic features of Indo-Greek coinage, including the bilingual and bi-script legends. Indo-Greek coins were miniatures of aesthetic excellence, of precise economic value and also providing useful information on emerging religious sects and cults (especially Stupa and Bhagava sect) that were prominent in that area. Coinage was also adjusted to region and requirement. For instance:

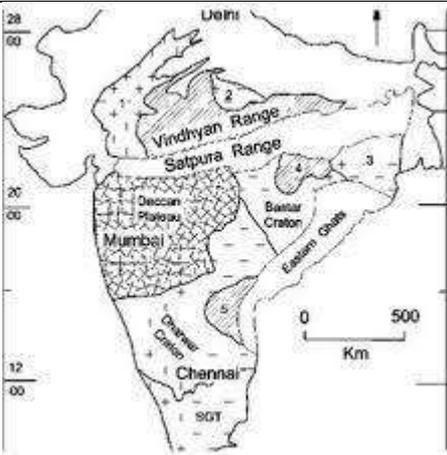

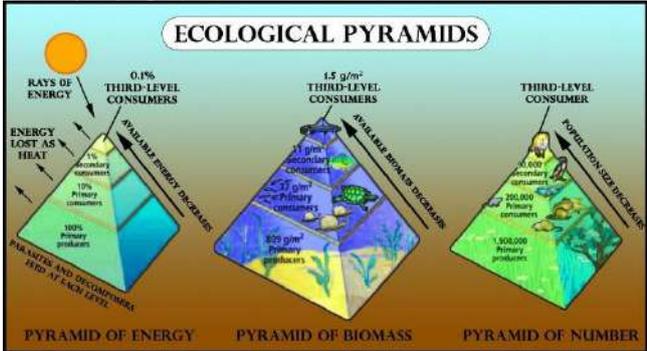

The Indo-Greek coins which were circulated to the north of the Hindu Kush.	The Indo-Greek coins which were circulated to the south of the Hindu Kush.
(a) Were made of gold, silver, copper and nickel.	Were made of silver and copper, and were often square in shape.
(b) Followed the Achaemenid weight standard and had Greek legends.	Had bilingual inscriptions in Greek and Kharosthi (found in Sialkot) and followed an Indian weight standard.
(c) Had royal portraits on the obverse and images of Greek deities (such as Zeus, Apollo and Athena) on the reverse along with the name and title of the king.	Royal portraits occur on the obverse side, but the motifs on the reverse include religious symbols that were Indian rather than Greek in inspiration.
- They introduced new features of Hellenistic art and literature such as Gandhara art in the north-west frontier of India, which was not purely Greek, but rather it was the outcome of the intermingling and influence of both Indian and central Asian contacts. A striking instance of this mingling is the Bannagar Pillar inscription of Heliodorus. New terms which had the influence of Greek terminology began to be used in the sub-continent. For instance, the term 'horoscopes' used for astrology in Sanskrit is derived from Greek word 'horoscope'.
- The Hellenistic Greeks are also known for their monumental buildings and their small, finely-crafted objects. Excavation of the cities of Al-Kharosum located on the confluence of the Oxus and the Kokcha of modern Balkh, Antioch, and Sirkap at Taxila, reveals a great talent of urban planning.
- The Indo-Greeks also introduced practice of military governorship (the governors were called strategos/satrapas).

99	Which category under the IUCN classification is not directly recognized in the Indian Wildlife (Protection) Act, 1972? (A) Critically Endangered; (B) Vulnerable; (C) Endemic; (D) Extinct in the Wild	C

The Indian Wildlife (Protection) Act, 1972 (WPA) primarily lists species under various Schedules (Schedule I is the highest protection, Schedule V is vermin, etc.) which correspond roughly to threat levels. It does not use the specific, detailed terminology of the IUCN categories (like Critically Endangered, Vulnerable, etc.) or the term Endemic (which is a geographical term, not a threat category) for official legal classification in its Schedules.

The term Endemic is a geographical descriptor (meaning confined to a specific area), and while IUCN uses threat categories (like Critically Endangered or Vulnerable) for classification, the WPA uses its own schedules.

			Of the choices, the WPA uses "Endangered" (Schedule I) and "Vulnerable" (broadly covered by other schedules), and species listed as "Critically Endangered" often fall under Schedule I. Endemic is the term that is not a status classification under IUCN or used directly as a classification under the WPA schedules.
